■ Supervised Visitation

Supervised visitation is offered for parents/others when it is determined that visitation is necessary and in the child's best interest but should be in a controlled environment. CTXST provides these services by referral when ordered by the courts, Child Protective Services, or other entities with authority.

■ Supervised Exchange

CTXST provides an exchange service for parents who need to exchange their children for weekend/other visitation periods. This program ensures that the child is not caught up in the emotional tug-of-war that often occurs and provides assurance that the custodial parent is not withholding visitation.

■ Observational Visitation

Observational Visitation is different from Supervised Visitation in that there is less interaction from the supervisor during the visit. In addition, Observational Visitation is usually derived from a mutually agreed-upon understanding and not a court order.
